A STORE ORDER STORY

Motormen Have a Different Tale to Tell.

SAY THEY WERE SOLICITED

A Statement From the Street Railway Men—They Have No Desire To Make Out a Table or Dictate the Number of Cars To Be Run on the Line—The Law on Vestibules.

The motormen, who want the street railway company to pay them more money for their work and give them proper protection against the weather, now have their side of the story for the public.

The store order matter seems to be the point in which the motormen manifest the greatest interest, and the statement was authoritatively made to the NEWS REVIEW today that each of four motormen had received an order for $10 on E. H. Riggs, a Wellsville grocer, and that two others had each received two for the same amount, aggregating $80 in orders that they know of. These orders, the men say, were solicited by Superintendent Andrews on the strength of the statement that if he sold $100 worth of goods for the merchant the Wellsville man would take a $50 advertising space in the cars. Since the advertising matter, according to the men, was a private venture of Mr. Andrews, they feel that the store orders were out of place.

As regards the demands of the men they say that they do not want more money and less hours. The superintendent asked them to prepare a table that would suit them and submit it to him, but they have no desire to dictate to the company how many cars the company shall run or the time in which they shall go over the road. All the motormen ask is to be paid for the labor they perform. The longest run is 13 hours and 12 minutes and the shortest is 6 hours and 36 minutes, but as only the extras and men on the swing run have the advantage of the short time, the men rebelled. They think it wrong to work 12 hours and receive no more pay than the men on short time. They want 18 cents an hour, so that a long day's work will give them a long day's pay and the motorman who only works a short time will get short pay. Not a motorman wants to say what the policy of the road shall be, he only wants 18 cents an hour for his work. The claim for vestibules is based on the state, law which is as follows:

Sec. 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the state of Ohio that every electric street car, other than trail cars which are attached to motor cars, shall be provided during the months of November, December, January, February and March, of each year, at the forward end, with a screen constructed with glass or other material, which shall fully and completely protect the driver, or motorman, or gripman, or other person stationed on such forward end and guiding and directing the motive power by which they are propelled, from storm and wind.

Sec. 2. Any person, agent or officer of any association or corporation violating the provisions of this act shall, upon conviction, be fined in any sum not less than $25 or more than $100 for each day each car belonging to and used by any such person, association or corporation is directed or permitted to remain unprovided with the screen required in Sec. 1 of this act, and it is hereby made the duty of the prosecuting attorney of each county in this state to institute the necessary proceedings to enforce the provisions of this act.

CARD OF THANKS.

The Members of the W. C. T. U. Thank Generous Citizens.

The ladies of the Women's Christian Temperance union met in regular session yesterday afternoon at their rooms on Market street, and after the transaction of routine business, passed a resolution, by a standing vote, without a dissenting voice, thanking the owners and proprietors of Cartwright's, Thompson's and the East Liverpool potteries for generous donations to the Young Women's home, in the shape of much-needed dishes. Also embracing in this vote the charitable citizens who lately presented the home with a nice consignment of tea and tablespoons. The home has been accomplishing a grand work in East Liverpool for young women, furnishing boarding and lodging for the sum of $2 per week, giving the girls a chance to save a little money and thus provide them with much-needed comforts. The charitable people can do much good in aiding this worthy institution, as the ladies in charge are indefatigable workers in the good cause. Help them along. The Women's Christian Temperance union yesterday appointed what is known as the "jail committee," with Mrs. Owens as superintendent, Mrs. Whitehead, Mrs. Curry, Mrs. Harkins and Mrs. Pacey. The object of this committee is to hold meetings at the city jail each Sabbath when prisoners are confined there, read passages of Scripture and indulge in Christian work, aiding those who desire to lead a better life.

PHYSICAL CULTURE.

The Initial Meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary a Great Success.

Score a victory for the Ladies auxiliary to the Young Men's Christian association in the matter of physical culture. Yesterday afternoon, at 4 o'clock, some fifty ladies responded to roll call and were soon actively engaged in the exercises, under the direction of Instructor Morris, of Pittsburg. The school marm of the city were out in force and were apparently eager to advance in physical strength and the grace to be derived from the various movements. Twenty-six new members were added to the auxiliary yesterday, many of these no doubt attracted by the physical culture feature, as the sum demanded for membership is but $1 per year, giving grand results from a health standard, as the class has two meetings each week, on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons. There will be no meeting on Thursday of the present week, on account of the entertainments to be given at the Fifth street rink on Friday and Saturday nights.

In the future, commencing next Tuesday afternoon, a class will drill from 3 until 4 o'clock, the school marm commencing at 4:15 and drilling until 5 o'clock. This has been thought a wise move on the part of the management of the auxiliary, on account of the large number desiring to participate and because it gives housewives time to go home and prepare supper for their lords and masters. It will also suit the school marm very nicely.

A movement will be made to accommodate the lady clerks of the city, from 6:15 to 6:45. Instructor Morris announces that the Deisarte method will be introduced in the very near future. The male element of the city is much disturbed, fearing serious results to themselves in consequence of abnormal physical development on the part of wives, mothers, sisters and sweethearts, with a possible mother-in-law joining in the fray.

A SILVER WEDDING.

Mr. and Mrs. John Godwin Celebrated a Pleasant Event.

Twenty-five years ago yesterday Mr. and Mrs. John Godwin were married, and last evening the silver anniversary was celebrated in the most approved style. Fully 60 people assembled at their pleasant home on Fifth street, and aided the happy couple in properly observing the occasion. Mr. and Mrs. Godwin were presented with many beautiful reminders of the occasion, and the guests enjoyed their hospitality until a late hour. Vocal and instrumental selections were among the most pleasing portions of the evening's amusement. Mr. and Mrs. Godwin have never before celebrated a marriage anniversary.

A Liverpool Man Went to Irondale and Got Drunk.

It is related by an Irondale correspondent that a Liverpool man went to that town and got drunk, being gathered in by the police before he could escape from the place. He was taken before the mayor, but having no money, left his watch for security. When the time came for the man to appear he wisely kept out of the town, but had his attorney fix up the fine and recover his watch. The only reason assigned for the man's failure to appear in person was that he said he got the liquor from Druggist Burson, and he did not want to be called as a witness against him.

BROUGHT THE FIREMEN.

A False Alarm Caused a Little Stir This Morning.

A false alarm was sounded this morning, and believing that the second of the new series of fires was taking place, the volunteers ran to the station from all parts of town. There was a general scramble on the streets and a lively scene at the station where the regulars stood and smiled, for they knew that the box was being tested and there was no fire. The volunteers responded promptly and almost all were there. It was suggested by a resident that a few such false alarms every month would improve the condition of the department.

CLARK IS AFTER PUSEY

The Solicitor Files a Suit For the City.

HE WANTS THE LICENSE FEE

That Old Case In Which Council Asked a Settlement Several Months Ago Eventually Finds Its Way to Common Pleas—Charged an Ordinance Is Being Broken.

Special to NEWS REVIEW.

Lisbon, Oct. 16.—A. H. Clark, solicitor of East Liverpool, today filed an action in which the city is the plaintiff against Elwood Pusey, the ferryman.

The petition says that for five years Pusey has been operating a ferry on the Ohio, and landing at the foot of Broadway. He has done this without a license, according to the solicitor, and against an ordinance which requires that any person operating a ferry within the city limits must pay a fee of $100 a year to the city. This Pusey has refused to do and the solicitor asked that the court give judgment for the amount and interest from the time the license fell due.

The trouble will readily be remembered by people who watch the affairs of the city. The matter was brought up in council several months ago, and referred to Clerk Hanley, who reported at another meeting that he could get no settlement from Pusey. Now the courts will decide whether the city can collect.

Solicitor Clark will reply to the Canton attorneys that no grade had been established on Avondale when the house was built, and consequently the city cannot be held liable.

ONLY A FAKE.

Miss Buckingham Was Not Murdered at Hopedale.

T. F. Milligan was troubled yesterday when he read that Miss Buckingham had been shot and instantly killed at Hopedale, a village not far from Steubenville, by a man named Leggett on Sunday night. If the story was true, Mr. Milligan felt certain that the murdered girl was his cousin, as he is well acquainted in the town and knows of no other family bearing the name. Being unable to secure the information here, Mr. Milligan telephoned to Steubenville, where he learned the whole story was a fake pure and simple, without the slightest cause for foundation.

GIVEN A MEDAL.

Chief Adam the Recipient of a Handsome Testimonial.

Last evening Chief Adam was agreeably surprised when Will Terrence, of the fire department, presented him in behalf of the laddies a handsome gold medal. The testimonial is a beautiful piece of workmanship. On a shield are the nozzle, hat, trumpet and ladder of the fireman, the whole being surmounted by an eagle. Suitable inscriptions are on the medal, making it a present that will always be among the chief's most guarded treasures.

TAKING NAMES.

The New Telephone Company's Agents are Hustling.

The Phoenix Telephone company's agents are soliciting business today, and are meeting with success. H. L. Simms, who endeavored to have a Cincinnati company come in here a few months ago, is interested in the movement, and thinks it will be successful. The company believe they have a good thing to offer although it is doubtful if a sufficient amount of Liverpool capital can be pledged to build the line.

SEIZED THE BOILER.

Forest Farmer Has Another Time With the Law.

The troubles of Forest Farmer, the man who deepened the Diamond well and caused such a commotion early in the summer by defending suits before almost every squire in town, are not at an end. The last case has deprived him of the boiler and fixtures, they being seized by the law to satisfy a judgment of $115 held by John Childs, of Smith's Ferry. The stuff has been shipped to Childs, and Farmer is on the outside. In all probability there will be no more suits.

ONLY ONE PAIR.

A Suspicious Person Tried to Sell Spectacles.

A well dressed young man caused no end of talk in Bradshaw addition this morning by calling at every house on Minerva street and other residences in that part of town, endeavoring to sell gold bowed spectacles. He only seemed to have one pair, and he was anxious to get away with those. Upon entering a house he would draw the spectacles from his pocket, ask if the person he addressed wanted to buy, and upon receiving a negative reply would hasten away. The man is a stranger in the city.

MASHED THE LAMP.

A New Arc Light In Demand at Washington and Third.

When Joseph Wise, an employe of the light company, was lowering the lamp at Washington and Third streets today, he was astonished to see it break from the hood, and fall into the street with a crash. The globe was mashed into a thousand pieces and the lamp destroyed.

The light company have a grievance against small boys, and will have some of them arrested if they continue to tie knots in the ropes which hold the lamps. The youngsters have developed the annoying practice, so that trimmers lose a great deal of time, and when the knots are high up the annoyance becomes a nuisance.

A GOOD START.

Reverend Whitehead's Scheme Will be Successful.

The classes in arithmetic and spelling were organized at the Methodist Protestant church last evening with a membership of 12, and prospects for more in the future. The members made a good start, and promised to bring others in the future. On Thursday evening the grammar class will start, and on Friday the classes in geography, history and reading will be started. The interest already developed in the movement prompts the belief that the classes will be attended by more people when they are well under way.

MURRAY WILL LEAVE.

The Fugitive to Shake the Dust of Liverpool From His Feet.

Peter Murray says he will leave town. He is tired of the place and disposed to take his departure as soon as he can make arrangements to go. To the NEWS REVIEW he stated today that some people were anxious to have him do crooked work, and that he will not do. He has always borne a good reputation as an honest pugilist, and he will leave town as he came. Murray has had bad luck since coming here, and wants to live in some other town.

WON'T GO TO SCHOOL.

The Truant Officer Finds Another Bad Boy.

William Beardmore, the truant officer, today filed a complaint in the court of Squire Morley of disorderly conduct and non-attendance at school against Roy, the son of William Pinkerton, of East End. The boy was committed to probate court, but a promise of better behavior and regular attendance at school on his part secured a suspension of sentence for the present. There are other cases of a similar nature that might be brought to the attention of the authorities.

ESCAPED THE LAW.

A Liverpool Man Laughed at the Wellsville Police.

Hippy Vandyne, a Jethro man, was in Wellsville last night and succeeded in becoming involved in a row with a fellow named Jarvis. The police arrested both men and took them to city hall where Vandyne asked to be allowed to step into the lavatory for a minute. The police were in the mayor's office talking to the other man, but noticing that Vandyne had not returned, searched for him, but he was gone. He had quietly slipped out and disappeared into the night.

SEEKING INFORMATION.

There Will be Suits for Damages if Avondale is Paved.

There is little doubt that the paving of Avondale street will result in damage suits as threatened by three property holders at the last meeting of council. Solicitor Clark had a letter today from Babcock & Arnold, a firm of Canton attorneys who wanted to know the facts in the matter. They represent Miss Mary L. Collins, one of the property owners who threatens to sue if the street is graded.

GOING TO A CONVENTION.

Epworth Leaguers Will Soon Start For Dayton.

The state meeting of the Epworth League will be held in Dayton next week, and Liverpool as usual will be represented. Miss Carrie McNutt, Miss Ella Bucher and Miss Stella McNutt will go as delegates, and Al Ferran will attend as one of the leading members and officers of the organization in this part of the state. Mr. Ferran is also on the program, and will take an active part in the convention.

PEAKE'S FINE IS PAID

The Councilman Settled and the Incident Ends.

PRESIDENT MARSHALL PERSISTS

He Made the Charge in Earnest, he Said, and Wanted the Case Brought Up—Mr. Peake Called on the Mayor Today and the Matter Was Closed Up.

The little incident which made the last meeting of council more interesting than usual was closed up this morning by Councilman Peake settling his account with the city.

When President Marshall placed the charge against the member from the Fourth ward he was in earnest, although the opinion was general that he was angry at that moment and would not think of the matter afterward, but such was not true. Yesterday afternoon he called at city hall, and not finding Mayor Gilbert there, had a talk with Chief Gill. He declared that he wanted the case pushed, and if it could not be brought to an end in police court he would take it to a squire. The doctor was very much in earnest, but the chief had some information in the statement that he had only a short time before seen Mr. Peake, and he would call on the mayor. The councilman came around this morning, and after hearing the charge, pleaded guilty and paid the fine of $6.60 imposed by the mayor.

Joseph Was Drunk.

Joseph Coles, a resident of Walker, came to town yesterday, and dilling himself full of that which invigorates, raised a row on Sixth street. Officer Whan chanced to see him, and when Joseph was sober enough to know where he was he found himself at city hall. He decided that he was guilty, and Mayor Gilbert charged him $6.75.

Mrs. Joe Houck was the only other prisoner in jail, and Mayor Gilbert was waiting for her to get sober before he gave her a hearing. The woman has been looking on the winecup so long that Mayor Gilbert would not venture an opinion as to when she could be heard.

A Pair of Falls.

A small boy pushing a wheel barrow in which was a keg with another small boy on top of it was a sight on Fifth street last evening. All went well until the youngster tumbled off the keg, and got a bad bruise on his head.

A young woman in walking down a flight of stairs leading to the Calcutta road slipped and fell yesterday going down a dozen or more steps. She was uninjured when she reached the bottom, having sustained no other hurt than a fright that almost made her faint.

More Marriages.

The marriage licenses issued in probate court in Lisbon today are as follows:

I. W. Williams and Eva L. Gourley, East Palestine; James Kirdler and Julia Ward; James Carroll and Nellie Flemping and Emmitt Green and Lilly Blanche Heatherly, East Liverpool; John Leville and Kate Hamilton, Leetonia; George Hunter and Anna E. Barcus.

A Busy Place.

The Standard pottery is the busiest place in town these days, and a great deal of work is being done. Engineer George was surveying for the culvert today, and workmen are pushing the construction of the building, numerous additions having recently been made to the force. As soon as possible work will be resumed in the shops.

Stranded for Three Hours.

The ferryboat ran on a rock in the river yesterday afternoon, and for three hours the crew worked with a will to get the craft afloat. All devices known to boating were used, and at last the boat was free. The low water in the river was responsible for the accident.

Tearing Down the Boards.

The bill boards at the corner of Seventh and Franklin streets are being torn down today. They have been a source of much annoyance ever since their erection, and their departure is hailed with delight by the residents in that section of the city.

Professional Ball.

Winnie Mercer went to Wheeling today where he will play ball with a team made up of Ohio boys, who will play with the professional ball players of West Virginia tomorrow.

Routine Business.

The doctors held their meeting last night, but transacted nothing beyond routine business. They met in the office of Doctor Toot.

Reverend Whitehead's Scheme Will be Successful.

The classes in arithmetic and spelling were organized at the Methodist Protestant church last evening with a membership of 12, and prospects for more in the future. The members made a good start, and promised to bring others in the future. On Thursday evening the grammar class will start, and on Friday the classes in geography, history and reading will be started. The interest already developed in the movement prompts the belief that the classes will be attended by more people when they are well under way.

MURRAY WILL LEAVE.

The Fugitive to Shake the Dust of Liverpool From His Feet.

Peter Murray says he will leave town. He is tired of the place and disposed to take his departure as soon as he can make arrangements to go. To the NEWS REVIEW he stated today that some people were anxious to have him do crooked work, and that he will not do it. He has always borne a good reputation as an honest pugilist, and he will leave town as he came. Murray has had bad luck since coming here, and wants to live in some other town.

WON'T GO TO SCHOOL.

The Truant Officer Finds Another Bad Boy.

William Beardmore, the truant officer, today filed a complaint in the court of Squire Morley of disorderly conduct and non-attendance at school against Roy, the son of William Pinkerton, of East End. The boy was committed to probate court, but a promise of better behavior and regular attendance at school on his part secured a suspension of sentence for the present. There are other cases of a similar nature that might be brought to the attention of the authorities.

ESCAPED THE LAW.

A Liverpool Man Laughed at the Wellsville Police.

Hippy Vandyne, a Jethro man, was in Wellsville last night and succeeded in becoming involved in a row with a fellow named Jarvis. The police arrested both men and took them to city hall where Vandyne asked to be allowed to step into the lavatory for a minute. The police were in the mayor's office talking to the other man, but noticing that Vandyne had not returned, searched for him, but he was gone. He had quietly slipped out and disappeared into the night.

SEEKING INFORMATION.

There Will be Suits for Damages if Avondale is Paved.

There is little doubt that the paving of Avondale street will result in damage suits as threatened by three property holders at the last meeting of council. Solicitor Clark had a letter today from Babcock & Arnold, a firm of Canton attorneys who wanted to know the facts in the matter. They represent Miss Mary L. Collins, one of the property owners who threatens to sue if the street is graded.

GOING TO A CONVENTION.

Epworth Leaguers Will Soon Start For Dayton.

The state meeting of the Epworth League will be held in Dayton next week, and Liverpool as usual will be represented. Miss Carrie McNutt, Miss Ella Bucher and Miss Stella McNutt will go as delegates, and Al Ferran will attend as one of the leading members and officers of the organization in this part of the state. Mr. Ferran is also on the program, and will take an active part in the convention.

PEAKE'S FINE IS PAID

The Councilman Settled and the Incident Ends.

PRESIDENT MARSHALL PERSISTS

He Made the Charge in Earnest, he Said, and Wanted the Case Brought Up—Mr. Peake Called on the Mayor Today and the Matter Was Closed Up.

The little incident which made the last meeting of council more interesting than usual was closed up this morning by Councilman Peake settling his account with the city.

When President Marshall placed the charge against the member from the Fourth ward he was in earnest, although the opinion was general that he was angry at that moment and would not think of the matter afterward, but such was not true. Yesterday afternoon he called at city hall, and not finding Mayor Gilbert there, had a talk with Chief Gill. He declared that he wanted the case pushed, and if it could not be brought to an end in police court he would take it to a squire. The doctor was very much in earnest, but the chief had some information in the statement that he had only a short time before seen Mr. Peake, and he would call on the mayor. The councilman came around this morning, and after hearing the charge, pleaded guilty and paid the fine of $6.00 imposed by the mayor.

JOSEPH WAS DRUNK.

Joseph Cole, a resident of Walker, came to town yesterday, and filling himself full of that which invigorates, raised a row on Sixth street. Officer Whan chanced to see him, and when Joseph was sober enough to know where he was found himself at city hall. He decided that he was guilty, and Mayor Gilbert charged him $6.75.

Mrs. Joe Houck was the only other prisoner in jail, and Mayor Gilbert was waiting for her to get sober before he gave her a hearing. The woman has been looking on the winecup so long that Mayor Gilbert would not venture an opinion as to when she could be heard.

A Pair of Falls.

A small boy pushing a wheel barrow in which was a keg with another small boy on top of it was a sight on Fifth street last evening. All went well until the youngster tumbled off the keg, and got a bad bruise on his head.

A young woman in walking down a flight of stairs leading to the Calcutta road slipped and fell yesterday going down a dozen or more steps. She was uninjured when she reached the bottom, having sustained no other hurt than a fright that almost made her faint.

More Marriages.

The marriage licenses issued in probate court in Lisbon today are as follows:

A Busy Place.

The Standard pottery is the busiest place in town these days, and a great deal of work is being done. Engineer George was surveying for the culvert today, and workmen are pushing the construction of the building, numerous additions having recently been made to the force. As soon as possible work will be resumed in the shops.

Stranded for Three Hours.

The ferryboat ran on a rock in the river yesterday afternoon, and for three hours the crew worked with a will to get the craft afloat. All devices known to boating were used, and at last the boat was free. The low water in the river was responsible for the accident.

Tearing Down the Boards.

The bill boards at the corner of Seventh and Franklin streets are being torn down today. They have been a source of much annoyance ever since their erection, and their departure is hailed with delight by the residents in that section of the city.

Professional Ball.

Winnie Mercer went to Wheeling today where he will play ball with a team made up of Ohio boys, who will play with the professional ball players of West Virginia tomorrow.

Routine Business.

The doctors held their meeting last night, but transacted nothing beyond routine business. They met in the office of Doctor Toot.

THE LEGISLATURE OF '91.

While candidate Campbell is singing with the sweetness of a Rocky mountain nightingale and gesticulating with the vehemence of a howling dervish, he is neglecting an important point in his argument on state issues, as he has seen fit to call it, and it is high time he was bringing his own official acts into the campaign. A dispatch from Columbus touches on the matter thus:

"Mr. Campbell charges the present legislature with $5,721,900, but he omits to say that the Democratic legislature in session during Campbell's incumbency, is chargeable with having authorized bonded indebtedness of $16,279,950. These figures are calculated on the same basis taken by Mr. Campbell of counting in everything which passes, even laws amending existing laws already in effect but not increasing the amount of indebtedness authorized by them; bills providing for the issuance of bonds to replace bonds in the same amount already existing, bonds to cover local indebtedness already existing, etc. Deducting all of such, the records show that the Campbell legislature authorized new local indebtedness aggregating $14,337,950. If the same deductions are made, taking Campbell's published statement as correct, the total of new local indebtedness properly chargeable to the Republican legislature, is not $5,721,900 but $4,423,100. But Campbell's figures are not correct. In it he places the amount of bonds authorized to be issued by Huntington township, Ross county (page 613, Ohio laws of 1894), at $12,000, whereas the law in fact authorizes an issuance of bonds to the amount of $1,200, but these bonds do not represent a new indebtedness, being issued only to cover an indebtedness already existing. 'Campbell's figures' are going to become historical as the mammoth myths of the age. Mr. Campbell makes a great ado about the Republican legislature having passed 25 laws authorizing localities to create indebtedness but not limiting the amount of the indebtedness. Mr. Campbell utterly fails to mention the interesting fact of his own legislature passing 116 of such laws."

Mr. Campbell should tell the whole truth. It is wicked to lie, even when one is a candidate for governor and is attempting to carry the legislature so that a millionaire New Yorker can represent Ohio in the Senate.

RAILROAD MEN LAUGH.

The Seizure of Cleveland's Lake Front Amuses Them.

MILLIONS OF DOLLARS INVOLVED.

The Property Has Been In Litigation For Some Time—The City Government Has Taken Possession and Opened Streets to the Water's Edge.

CLEVELAND, Oct. 16.—The railroad companies made no move whatever in the Lake Front affair. The high officials laugh at the efforts of the city, saying that no damage has been done to their property. They refused, however, to say what they would do if the city asserted ownership of the land in dispute, simply declaring that they would protect the property entrusted to their care. The city's next step will doubtless be the erection of viaducts over the railway tracks to connect the streets on the water front with those of which they are supposed to be extensions.

The property in dispute is worth millions of dollars and the suits brought against the railroad companies by the city to regain possession have been in the courts for some time.

A resolution was adopted by the city council authorizing the mayor to open up certain streets to the water's edge. In order to head off an injunction the mayor decided to start the work at once.

Between midnight and daybreak the city government took possession of the Lake Front. The mayor and his cabinet were personally on the ground and directed the work by which a number of streets were opened and graded that have been closed for years. They were opened to the water's edge.

The Lake Shore and Pennsylvania companies are the roads principally interested in the matter.

For Shorter Presidential Campaigns.

CLEVELAND, Oct. 16.—The Cleveland chamber of commerce has adopted a resolution calling upon commercial bodies in other cities to move for a shorter presidential campaign next year. The preamble recites that much of the depression following the election of 1892 was due to the long campaign, and it is recommended that the conventions of the two great parties be held three months instead of six months before the election. A memorial to that effect will be sent to both the Democratic and Republican national committees.

The Carriage Builders' Convention.

CLEVELAND, Oct. 16.—A good part of the session of the Carriage Builders' convention was devoted to the reading of report of the trustees of the technical school and a discussion of the same. The advantages of technical education to the carriage builders were pointed out and the advantages of this school to young men were urged. A call was made for subscriptions for support of the school and there were many liberal responses. A committee was appointed to solicit further subscriptions.

A Determined Suicide.

CLEVELAND, Oct. 16.—The body of a laboring man has been pulled out of the Cuyahoga river. He had made a desperate and decidedly successful attempt at suicide. He had nearly severed both legs, had tried to strangle himself by tying a handkerchief tightly about his neck and then leaped into the water. His body cannot be identified.

Baseball Player Fatally Shot.

SPENCERVILLE, O., Oct. 16.—W. W. Rupert has been fatally shot while hunting. The gun of his companion was accidentally discharged, the charge striking Rupert in the chest. HUNTINGTON, W. Va., Oct. 16.—A large syndicate, composed of foreign and local authorities, has succeeded, it is said, in securing oil leases of all the lands in this county between the Ohio river and the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad.

Arrangements have been made to drive six or eight test wells at once in a part of the territory covering six miles, and this plan will be kept up until the entire section has been tested.

Married an American Girl.

PARIS, Oct. 16.—M. Jusseland, formerly secretary of the French embassy in London, has been married here to Miss Elise Richards, an American. The ceremony was first performed at the American church (Protestant Episcopal) and then at the English Catholies (Roman Catholic). The witnesses of the ceremonies for the bride were her uncle, Mr. Edward Tack, and Mr. George Monroe. M. Jusseland's witnesses were the French minister of foreign affairs, M. Hanotaux, and the Comte de Montebello.

Fired on by a Spanish Gunboat.

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—The Atlas line steamer Alois, which was fired on by a Spanish gunboat while passing Cape May, on Sept. 26, has arrived in port. He will make a report to his company, which may bring the incident to the attention of the state department.

The Marblehead should make the trip in about four days.

Railroads Need More Freight Cars.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 16.—There is a famine in freight cars on all lines in this state, and many shippers who were holding off for lower freight rates are now offering a premium for cars. The iron industries are clamoring for better service, and the Pennsylvania Railroad company has just placed an order for 1,000 gondola freight cars.

TURKEY MUST COMPLY.

An Ultimatum to Be Presented by the Powers.

WILL ENFORCE ARMENIAN REFORM

Only One Modification, That of Requiring a Christian Commissioner—Fifty Armenians Killed and Many Wounded by Moslems.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 16.—M. Cambron, the French ambassador, M. Nelli-doff, the Russian ambassador, and Sir Philip Currie, the British ambassador, have presented to Said Pasha, the minister of foreign affairs, the final demands of the powers for Armenian reforms. If this is not accepted an ultimatum will be presented.

No further modifications will be permitted. The scheme drops the demand for a Christian high commissioner, but otherwise it is almost identical with the proposals of last May. It is believed, however, that Russia hesitates to force an acceptance, because she fears ultimate Armenian autonomy.

News received from Trebizonde is to the effect that the Russian postal steamer is lying there with 2,000 Christian refugees on board. Two other vessels, also full of refugees, are there awaiting the arrival of Russian ships to transport them to Batoum.

Reliable news has been received here that 50 Armenians have been killed and a number wounded at Akhissar, in the valley of Adin, on the Anatolian railway, by a moslem mob. The slaughter occurred on a market day, when many Armenians had gathered from adjacent villages. Early in the morning a Turkish rough, finding that the Armenians were not armed, picked a quarrel and shot one of the men. There was then raised on all sides the cry of, "Why hesitate to massacre the infidels?"

A mob of Turks, armed with revolvers and knives, looted the market and massacred the helpless Armenians. Their bodies were thrown into the wells. It is stated that the Mudir was responsible for the attack. No women or children were injured, probably on account of the arrival of Kaimakan from the village of Gieve, three miles distant, who made valiant efforts at the risk of his own life to save the Christians. Otherwise the slaughter would have been complete.

The panic is reviving in Constantinople, on account of the continued police attacks, and the Armenians are again flocking into the churches. The police disregard the safe conduct cards given to the Armenians by the foreign embassies, and they insult and maltreat the holders of them.

THE AMERICAN BANKERS.

Their Association Holding a Convention at Atlanta.

ATLANTA, Oct. 16.—The American Bankers' association is in session in the Grand Opera House with an unusually large attendance of delegates and a liberal sprinkling of visitors and on-lookers. The association was welcomed to the city by Mayor Porter King, and to the state by Hon. G. Gunby Jordan, president of the State Bankers' association, in brief addresses.

To these words of welcome President John J. P. O'Dell responded in behalf of the visiting bankers and delivered his annual address. The report of the executive council was then read by Mr. E. H. Pullen, chairman, and the treasurer's report was also read and accepted. Ex-Governor Merriam of Minnesota read a paper entitled "The Currency of the Twentieth Century," in which he outlined a currency scheme.

SURE OF THE ROPE.

A Negro Assaulter of Women Being Taken Back to His Death.

MEMPHIS, Oct. 16.—Jeff Ellis, the negro rapist captured near Holly Springs, Miss., is now on his way back to Braden, Tenn., the scene of his crime, in custody of three officers. He has confessed as to the offense, and also says he ravished and murdered Mrs. Wilcox, of the same locality some time ago. In this case the woman's husband went crazy from the shock and died in an asylum. Ellis adds that he tried to rape a young girl while escaping into Mississippi, but did not succeed. He will almost certainly be lynched on arrival at Braden.

Twenty-One of the Crew Missing.

VALPARAISO, Chile, Oct. 16.—The American ship Parthia, Captain Carter, from Liverpool for San Francisco with coal, has been burned at sea. The Parthia proved a total loss. Several of her crew landed here in one of the ship's boat, but the captain, chief mate and 19 of the crew, who left the wreck in boats, are still missing.

THE LEGISLATURE OF '91.

While candidate Campbell is singing with the sweetness of a Rocky mountain nightingale and gesticulating with the vehemence of a howling dervish, he is neglecting an important point in his argument on state issues, as he has seen fit to call it, and it is high time he was bringing his own official acts into the campaign. A dispatch from Columbus touches on the matter thus:

"Mr. Campbell charges the present legislature with $5,721,900, but he omits to say that the Democratic legislature in session during Campbell's incumbency, is chargeable with having authorized bonded indebtedness of $16,279,950. These figures are calculated on the same basis taken by Mr. Campbell of counting in everything which passes, even laws amending existing laws already in effect but not increasing the amount of indebtedness authorized by them; bills providing for the issuance of bonds to replace bonds in the same amount already existing, bonds to cover local indebtedness already existing, etc. Deducting all of such, the records show that the Campbell legislature authorized new local indebtedness aggregating $14,337,950. If the same deductions are made, taking Campbell's published statement as correct, the total of new local indebtedness properly chargeable to the Republican legislature, is not $5,721,900 but $4,423,100.
 But Campbell's statement is not correct. In it he places the amount of bonds authorized to be issued by Huntington township, Ross county (page 613, Ohio laws of 1894), at $12,000, whereas the law in fact authorizes an issuance of bonds to the amount of $1,200, but these bonds do not represent a new indebtedness, being issued only to cover an indebtedness already existing. 'Campbell's figures' are going to become historical as the mammoth myths of the age. Mr. Campbell makes a great ado about the Republican legislature having passed 25 laws authorizing localities to create indebtedness but not limiting the amount of the indebtedness. Mr.
 Campbell utterly fails to mention the interesting fact that his own legislature passed 116 of such laws."

Mr. Campbell should tell the whole truth. It is wicked to lie, even when one is a candidate for governor and is attempting to carry the legislature so that a millionaire New Yorker can represent Ohio in the Senate.

 croup can be prevented. The first symptom of true croup is hoarseness.

 cough has developed it will prevent the attack. Twenty-five and 50 cent

RAILROAD MEN LAUGH.

The Seizure of Cleveland's Lake Front Amuses Them.

MILLIONS OF DOLLARS INVOLVED.

The Property Has Been In Litigation
 For Some Time—The City Government
 Has Taken Possession and Opened Streets to the Water's Edge.

CLEVELAND, Oct. 16.—The railroad companies made no move whatever in the Lake Front affair. The high officials laugh at the efforts of the city, saying that no damage has been done to their property. They refused, however, to say what they would do if the city asserted ownership of the land in dispute, simply declaring that they would protect the property undermined to their care. The city's next step will doubtless be the erection of viaducts over the railway tracks to connect the streets on the water front with those of which they are supposed to be extensions.

The property in dispute is worth millions of dollars and the suits brought against the railroad companies by the city to regain possession have been in the courts for some time.

A resolution was adopted by the city council authorizing the mayor to open up certain streets to the water's edge. In order to head off an injunction the mayor decided to start the work at once.

Between midnight and daybreak the city government took possession of the Lake Front. The mayor and his cabinet were personally on the ground and directed the work by which a number of streets were opened and graded that have been closed for years. They were opened to the water's edge.

The Lake Shore and Pennsylvania companies are the roads principally interested in the matter.

For Shorter Presidential Campaigns.

CLEVELAND, Oct. 16.—The Cleveland
 chamber of commerce has adopted a resolution calling upon commercial bodies in other cities to move for a shorter presidential campaign next year. The preamble recites that much of the depression following the election of 1892 was due to the long campaign, and it is recommended that the conventions of the two great parties be held three months instead of six months before the election. A memorial to that effect will be sent to both the Democratic and Republican national committees.

The Carriage Builders' Convention.

CLEVELAND, Oct. 16.—A good part of the session of the Carriage Builders' convention was devoted to the reading of report of the trustees of the technical school and a discussion of the same.
 The advantages of technical education to the carriage builders were pointed out and the advantages of this school to young men were urged. A call was made for subscriptions for support of the school and there were many liberal responses. A committee was appointed to solicit further subscriptions.

A Determined Suicide.

CLEVELAND, Oct. 16.—The body of a laboring man has been pulled out of the Cuyahoga river. He had made a desperate and decidedly successful attempt at suicide. He had nearly severed both legs, had tried to strangle himself by tying a handkerchief tightly about his neck and then leaped into the water. His body cannot be identified.

Baseball Player Fatally Shot.

SPENCERVILLE, O., Oct. 16.—W. W.
 Rupert has been fatally shot while hunting. The gun of his companion was accidentally discharged, the charge striking Rupert in the chest. Rupert is a well-known minor league ball player, and played with the Kansas City and Fall River (Mass.) teams during the season just ended.

A Notorious Convict Recaptured.

COLUMBUS, Oct. 16.—George Blackburn, the most noted criminal in the penitentiary, who escaped about two months ago, is again behind the bars.
 He was arrested in Vinton county, about three miles from Zaleski, by George Shipley, a detective of the county.

Going to Atlanta in a Body.

CLEVELAND, Oct. 16.—The Cleveland
 chamber of commerce will visit the Atlanta exposition in a body on Nov. 30 to 23. The members of the organization will go on a flyer double de-cepted train.

BIG OIL LEASES.

Test Wells to Be Sunk in a Large Section in West Virginia.

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., Oct. 16.—A large syndicate, composed of foreign and local authorities, has succeeded, it is said, in securing oil leases of all the lands in this county between the Ohio river and the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad.

Arrangements have been made to drive six or eight test wells at once in a part of the territory covering six miles, and this plan will be kept up until the entire section has been tested.

Married an American Girl.

PARIS, Oct. 16.—M. Jusseland, formerly secretary of the French embassy in London, has been married here to Miss Elise Richards, an American. The ceremony was first performed at the American church (Protestant Episcopal) and then at the English Chapelle (Roman Catholic). The witnesses of the ceremonies for the bride were her uncle, Mr. Edward Tuck, and Mr.
 George Monroe. M. Jusseland's witnesses were the French minister of foreign affairs, M. Hanotian, and the Comte de Montebello.

Federated Metal Trades Convention.

CHICAGO, Oct. 16.—The Federated Metal trades are holding a three days' session here. The trades represented are the bridge and structural iron workers, tin and sheet iron workers, metal polishers, boiler makers, molders, machinists, pattern makers, brass finishers and blacksmiths. A committee was appointed to continue the agitation begun by Samuel Gompers for a universal eight-hour day, to begin May 1, 1896.

Fired on by a Spanish Gunboat.

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—The Atlas line steamer Alene, which was fired on by a Spanish gunboat while passing Cape Maysi on Sept. 26, has arrived in port.
 Captain Seiders is at a loss to account for the conduct of the Spaniards, as his steamer was displaying her usual signals. He will make a report to his company, which may bring the incident to the attention of the state department.

Warship Sails For Turkey.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—A cable message has been received at the navy department saying that in obedience to orders from Washington the cruiser Marblehead has left Naples for Mersina, Syria, for the protection of American missionaries in that section of the world. The Marblehead should make the trip in about four days.

Railroads Need More Freight Cars.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 16.—There is a famine in freight cars on all lines in this state, and many shippers who were holding off for lower freight rates are now offering a premium for cars. The iron industries are clamoring for better service, and the Pennsylvania Railroad company has just placed an order for 1,000 gondola freight cars.

Union Veteran Legion Convention.

BUFFALO, Oct. 16.—The tenth national Legion opened this morning in this city. Last evening the members of the Buffalo encampment and ladies' auxiliary tendered a reception at the New Tilt House to the national officers of both the legion and the ladies' auxiliary.

 came public.

TURKEY MUST COMPLY.

An Ultimatum to Be Presented by the Powers.

WILL ENFORCE ARMENIAN REFORM

Only One Modification, That of Requiring a Christian Commissioner—Fifty Armenians Killed and Many Wounded
 by Moslems.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 16.—M. Cam-bon, the French ambassador; M. Neldoff, the Russian ambassador, and Sir Philip Currie, the British ambassador, have presented to Said Pasha, the minister of foreign affairs, the final demand of the powers for Armenian reforms. If this is not accepted an ultimatum will be presented.

No further modifications will be permitted. The scheme drops the demand for a Christian high commissioner, but otherwise it is almost identical with the proposals of last May. It is believed, however, that Russia hesitates to force an acceptance, because she fears ultimate Armenian autonomy.

News received from Trebizonde is to the effect that the Russian postal steamer is lying there with 2,000 Christian refugees on board. Two other vessels, also full of refugees, are there awaiting the arrival of Russian ships to transport them to Batoum.

Reliable news has been received here that 50 Armenians have been killed and a number wounded at Akhissar, in the valley of Adin, on the Anatolian railway, by a moslem mob. The slaughter occurred on a market day, when many Armenians had gathered from adjacent villages. Early in the morning a Turkish rough, finding that the Armenians were not armed, picked a quarrel and shot one of the men.
 There was then raised on all sides the cry of, "Why hesitate to massacre the infidels?"

A mob of Turks, armed with revolvers and knives, looted the market and massacred the helpless Armenians.
 Their bodies were thrown into the wells. It is stated that the Madir was responsible for the attack. No women or children were injured, probably on account of the arrival of Kaimakan from the village of Gieve, three miles distant, who made valiant efforts at the risk of his own life to save the Christians. Otherwise the slaughter would have been complete.

The panic is reviving in Constantinople, on account of the continued isolated attacks, and the Armenians are again flocking into the churches. The police disregard the safe conduct cards given to the Armenians by the foreign embassies, and they insult and maltreat
 the holders of them.

THE AMERICAN BANKERS.

Their Association Holding a Convention
 at Atlanta.

ATLANTA, Oct. 16.—The American Bankers' association is in session in the Grand Opera House with an unusually large attendance of delegates and a liberal sprinkling of visitors and onlookers. The association was welcome to the city by Mayor Porter
 King, and to the state by Hon. G.
 Gunby Jordan, president of the State
 Bankers' association, in brief addresses.

To these words of welcome President John J. P. O'Dell responded in behalf of the visiting bankers and delivered his annual address. The report of the executive council was then read by Mr. E. H. Pullen, chairman, and the treasurer's report was also read and accepted. Ex-Governor Merriam of Minnesota read a paper entitled
 "The Currency of the Twentieth Century," in which he outlined a currency scheme.

SURE OF THE ROPE.

A Negro Assaulter of Women Being Taken Back to His Death.

MEMPHIS, Oct. 16.—Jeff Ellis, the negro rapist captured near Holly Springs, Miss., is now on his way back to Braden, Tenn., the scene of his crime, in custody of three officers. He has confessed as to the offense, and also says he ravished and murdered Mrs. Wilcox, of the same locality some time ago.

In this case the woman's husband went crazy from the shock and died in an asylum. Ellis adds that he tried to rape a young girl while escaping into Mississippi, but did not succeed. He will almost certainly be lynched on arrival at Braden.

Twenty-One of the Crew Missing.

VALPARAISO, Chile, Oct. 16.—The American ship Parthia, Captain Carter, from Liverpool for San Francisco with coal, has been burned at sea. The Parthia proved a total loss. Several of her crew landed here in one of the ship's boat, but the captain, chief mate and 19 of the crew, who left the wreck in boats, are still missing.

Alleged Pardons 112 Girls.

CHICAGO, Oct. 16.—Governor Altgeld has pardoned a bunch of 112 girls from the Evanston industrial school. The favorable report made by a committee which investigated the institution.

 ing the apocrypha, upon which the re-ments.

Negro Killed by White Men.

NASHVILLE, Oct. 16.—Engene Vanoy, a negro who lived one mile east of Manchester, has been called out of his house by a crowd of white men and shot to death. He was charged with keeping and abusing a half-witted white girl.

Roumanian Cabinet Resigns.

BUCHAREST, Oct. 16.—The cabinet has resigned and King Charles has summoned Demeter Sturdza, the Liberal leader, to form a new ministry.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure.

Even No Handshake.

Clarke Says the Pugs Can Meet Under No Circumstances.

Brodie Selected as Referee.

Corbett at Hot Springs, but Fitzsimmons is afraid to go there—Governor Clarke Refuses to Tell How He Will Proceed to Prevent the Fight.

LITTLE ROCK, Oct. 16.—Governor Clarke's determination to stop the Corbett-Fitzsimmons fight at any cost has been emphasized by the presence in this city of General Taylor of Forest City, brigadier general of the Arkansas state guard, who was summoned to the capital by telegraph to confer with the governor in regard to the strength of the state militia. General Taylor was in conference with Governor Clarke for an hour and when seen later by a reporter was preparing to take the train for Hot Springs. General Taylor said positively that the fight would not occur. His purpose in going to Hot Springs, he said, was to warn the people there against the danger to which they would subject themselves should any attempt be made to bring the contest off. The state guard, General Taylor said, was in good condition and amply sufficient to cope with the militia companies. He could, he said, with a few hours' notice, land 500 well drilled and fully equipped men in Hot Springs. General Taylor will return to this city today and advise Governor Clarke as to the situation at Hot Springs and the result of his views there.

Governor Clarke, when questioned by your representative in reference to his consultation with General Taylor, was not disposed to talk. Asked if he had confidence in the ability of the state guard to carry out his plans, he said that the militia was a matter of secondary consideration; that he could get all the force necessary outside the militia companies. He reiterated his former declaration that the fight would not be permitted to take place, and in this connection said he could make no distinction between a prizefight and a glove contest.

"Suppose, Governor Clarke," suggested the reporter, "Corbett and Fitzsimmons should desire to give an exhibition of physical culture at Hot Springs on Oct. 31, in which large, soft gloves were to be used, would that also be stopped by military force?"

"Corbett and Fitzsimmons shall not meet in Hot Springs in any kind of a contest," said Governor Clarke emphatically. "If they ever meet they will fight, and they shall not fight in Arkansas. They shall not fight in Hot Springs, either in or out of a ring. They shall not even shake hands."

When asked if Corbett would be arrested upon his arrival at Hot Springs, Governor Clarke said that a good general never disclosed his plans to the enemy.

Information comes from a private source that the Florida Athletic club is considering a plan by which they hope to overcome the obstacles placed before them by Governor Clarke. The scheme is to turn the whole affair over to the Hot Springs Athletic association. That association was incorporated by the state of Arkansas on Sept. 6, 1895, by William L. Babcock, John C. Lonsdale and Charles H. Weaver, all of Hot Springs. According to its charter, the Hot Springs Athletic association was organized for the purpose of carrying on the business of maintaining a place of recreation in or near the city of Hot Springs, where races, athletic exercises and games may be practiced and exhibited and other amusements and means of entertainment may be furnished, either to the public or such persons or associations as may from time to time be admitted thereto.

Under this charter the people interested believe they can conduct a boxing match limited to a specified number of rounds with soft gloves without violating any state law. When informed of this scheme, Governor Clarke stated that the state chartered corporations or associations for legal purposes only, and that no violation of the law would be tolerated under the guise of amusement. He was not prepared, however, to state just what legal effect the proposition to change the articles would have.

A Hot Springs special says: Corbett and his party have arrived here. Fitzsimmons' manager has telegraphed from Corpus Christi, demanding a deposit of enough money in cash to defray expenses in case of arrest, before he will leave with Fitzsimmons for this city.

An Omaha special says: Steve Brodie, who has been playing in this city, received a dispatch tonight, saying he had been chosen referee in the Corbett-Fitzsimmons fight, which will occur when a place can be found where the mill can be pulled off. Mr. Brodie said: "If the authorities at Hot Springs interfere, the battleground will be relocated on the island in the Missouri river near St. Joseph, and will be pulled off to a dead certainty. However, I will expect to referee the fight at Hot Springs."

A DEMOCRAT TALKS.

Colonel Ike Hill Tells About the Springfield Convention.

HOW THE SILVER MEN WERE SLUGGED.

The Tactics of the Other Fellows Simply Out of Sight—Brice and His Big Boogie—"He Needs a Seat in the Senate in His Business"—Some Striking Truths.

Special Dispatch to the Commercial Gazette.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16.—"No, I'm for gold. My Democracy is pumpkin color plumb through; I told you that before." It was Colonel Ike Hill of Newark, O., the celebrated sergeant-at-arms of the house of representatives who spoke. And though he talked readily and in a fashion of stern directness, his features wore a careworn look, as those of a prophet who feared the future he foresaw.

"The control of the party is for gold," continued Colonel Hill; "particularly the leaders in my state of Ohio; and that settles it with me. I'm for gold, and hope I won't live to regret it."

"Yes, all the world knows I was for silver; I was for silver as long as the party was. But they changed to gold on me and I shifted my brush. I follow the party; it can't make too swift a switch for me. There's no curve in the road sharp enough to throw Uncle Isaac off the party train."

"I don't feel the need of making any apology for quitting silver for gold; there's lots of us. There's no end of people whose politics are playing one-night stands right now."

"And I think the Democracy's going to win in '96. Of course, I ain't fool enough to bet money on it; but if we carry Maryland and Kentucky this fall I'll begin to see light ahead. Not floods of it, but light, just the same."

"The trouble is that the way the party's been run for the last three years there's no encouragement to Democrats to win. We don't get anything when we do win."

Grover and Civil War.

"When we are dead, what'll we do then?"

"The old Whig party died when it got so weak it only carried four states; we won't carry one with Grover. We'll be lucky to be alive personally if we run him. And yet some of these fellows are heading up that way."

"To be sure, the Democratic party has got the nine lives of a tomcat; that's what your Uncle Isaac does business on now—that's where he pastures his hopes. It's a hard outfit to kill; the Democracy is. In the '90 it stood up and shot at itself for four years, but it's alive and kicking yet. The only thing that shakes me is the fear that maybe somehow Grover's worse than the civil war."

"Ohio! On the level I have hopes Jim Campbell will carry the state. And John Sherman and the abolition crowd have got possession of the Republican party out there this trip; that helps us."

"Campbell's on a good platform. It straddles about just right and ought to suit most people. We've recognized the better element and conceded all it could reasonably ask, and as I look it over I don't see where anybody's right to kick comes in."

"Oh, yes; it's a gold platform. Brice took care of that."

"I've always had a hawm full of respect for Brice; but since the Springfield convention I venerate him. Brice came there in his private car and went over that convention like you'd curdy a horse. Never missed a lick with brush or curry-comb from ears to fetlock. When he got through the party shone like a bottle. If he didn't curdy the speed out of it we're O. K."

"Did he have any trouble getting it to declare for '94 and the administration? Not a bit, my son; not a bit. Five thousand dollars more would have made it unanimous."

"Talk about tactics, too! The tactics of the gold bugs at the Springfield convention were simply out of sight. You couldn't reach em with the strongest glass."

"To begin with they picked out a hall that had silver faded from the go. It was one of these slim halls; narrow as a bowling alley and long as a rope walk. There were only 750 seats, gallery and all, in the hall, and here were 808 delegates. They went over the list in advance and assigned all the gold delegations to seats in front. They put all of us conifers in the rear and up in the gallery."

Brice Hopes to Buy His Way In.

"I'm sure Brice will succeed himself. We can carry the legislature like hanging out a washing. The heft of the fight will be in Hamilton county. If we get the 14 votes of Hamilton we've got 'em out on a limb. All we've got to do then is shake it or saw it off. They are our meat. We break even with 'em out in the country districts, and with Hamilton county's 14 it's a cinch."

"Of course, it's going to take money; the g—l—e—w, glew will have to be forthcoming. But the Democrats up there have got it, and stand ready to make a ceiling play to win."

"And we will win. Just as I put it—the heft of the fly paper will be in Hamilton county, and we'll get those 14 votes if there's any virtue in a muscled leg that's never failed as yet."

"Brice ought to come back to the senate, too. The country needs him in its business; and he needs the country in his; so it's a standoff as far as interest goes."

Talking about Mr Campbell's record as governor, he was the only governor Ohio ever had whose appointments were so notoriously bad that he had to call an extraordinary session of the legislature to turn the rascals out.—Toledo Blade.

The Cleveland administration is proving almost as expensive as the civil war.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

The merry go round, at corner of Washington and Second, is a great attraction to the little ones.

A number of young people from the city spent a pleasant evening dancing at the home of Willard Mercer in Chester last evening.

The Presbyterian ladies of Wells-ville who are interested in foreign missionary work will entertain the society of the First church of this city tonight.

The decorators at the Union are working at night because of increased demand in orders. Business about the potteries is as rosy as ever, and a great deal of ware is being turned out.

Thomas Rowe, a well known musician of the city, has gone to Oil City where he will join Mulligan's Comedy company, he having engaged to play with them the remainder of the season.

The merry go round on Washington street afforded amusement to some people for a few minutes last evening because two members of the police force remembered they had once been boys long enough to take a ride.

W. C. Goekeymer, who for three years has been employed at the freight depot in the capacity of rate clerk, has resigned his position, and accompanied by his wife left for his home in Cincinnati. W. H. Leech, of the force, has been elevated to the vacancy, and a general change to fill empty desks will be the result.

The ladies of the auxiliary who are interested in physical culture were given their first lesson by Director Morris yesterday afternoon. There was a much larger attendance than was anticipated, and the class starts off with an enthusiastic membership. A number of teachers in the schools are interested in the movement.

Tommy Humphries and his wife made a scene on Broadway last night. Mary Ann has been working at a restaurant in that part of the city, and upon being discharged last evening demanded her wages; but the former employer refuse to pay, and there was war. At length, after many hard words and grand stand plays from Thomas, the pair departed.

Two men sat at a table in a prominent hotel today, one wearing in his lapel a Bushnell button and the other being decorated with the Campbell, to show that he was a Democrat. "Is that button made out of tin?" asked the Bushnell man. "Yes," came the reply from another guest who set near by, "but it would be much more appropriate if the thing was made out of brass," and the Democrat laughed with the rest.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hulson, of New Bedford, Mass., left on the eastbound train last night for their home after a pleasant surprise visit to their friends, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Bloor, of John street. This is their first meeting since they left old England over 15 years ago. Mrs. Hulson also surprised Mrs. John Stoddard, an old classmate, with whom she spent a pleasant time, renewing their old friendship and recalling their school days.

People in the Diamond were surprised beyond measure late yesterday afternoon to see a teamster drive to the fountain, and with as much deliberation as if it was devoted to that purpose, then allowed his horses to drink. A number of women were near the fountain, and evidently going to have some water, but when they saw the horses drink, their noses were elevated and they walked away. Now the question arises, "Are horses allowed to drink at the fountain?"

The woods are full of squirrels, and Liverpool sportsmen get their share of the game. I. N. Crable and Jesse Hunter were out yesterday, and on Cream ridge, a noted hunting ground, succeeded in getting 16 squirrels for their labor. Mr. Hunter also killed a hawk measuring almost five feet from tip to tip. The coon hunters are also having their season of sport, and have succeeded in getting a considerable quantity of game. A party will tramp the hills of West Virginia tonight.

A prominent citizen who is more or less conspicuous in all movements for the suppression of the saloon, laughs at the silly boast of a local paper that it is shutting up disreputable resorts. The saloons referred to and the place of Tim Burns have been closed for over a week, and the paper only discovered it through the kindness of a gentleman connected with the Good Citizenship league. Mrs. Coulson informed the News Review, and it was published in this paper several weeks ago, that she was going out of business.

Hon. Charles Emory Smith, the distinguished Republican who is to speak at the rink on Monday evening, will give his hearers something in the nature of a treat. He has been for 10 years or more the editor of the Philadelphia Press, and as an orator he has few equals, being a man of liberal education and wide experience. He adds to the exactness of a writer the fire, force and eloquence of an accomplished orator. He is vigorous and logical, and has long since won an enviable reputation for veracity.

BRODIE SELECTED AS REFEREE.

Corbett at Hot Springs, but Fitzsimmons is Afraid to Go There—Governor Clarke Refuses to Tell How He Will Proceed to Prevent the Fight.

LITTLE ROCK, Oct. 16.—Governor Clarke's determination to stop the Corbett-Fitzsimmons fight at any cost has been emphasized by the presence in this city of General Taylor of Forest City, brigadier general of the Arkansas state guard, who was summoned to the capital by telegraph to confer with the governor in regard to the strength of the state militia. General Taylor was in conference with Governor Clarke for an hour and when seen later by a reporter was preparing to take the train for Hot Springs. General Taylor said positively that the fight would not occur. His purpose in going to Hot Springs, he said, was to warn the people there against the danger to which they would subject themselves should any attempt be made to bring the contest off. The state guard, General Taylor said, was in good condition and amply sufficient to cope with the state guard. He could, he said, with a few hours' notice, land 850 well drilled and fully equipped men in Hot Springs. General Taylor will return to this city today and advise Governor Clarke as to the situation at Hot Springs and the result of his views there.

Governor Clarke, when questioned by your representative in reference to his consultation with General Taylor, was not disposed to talk. Asked if he had confidence in the ability of the state guard to carry out his plans, he said that the militia was a matter of secondary consideration; that he could get all the force necessary outside the militia companies. He reiterated his former declaration that the fight would not be permitted to take place, and in this connection said he could make no distinction between a prizefight and a glove contest.

"Corbett and Fitzsimmons shall not meet in Hot Springs in any kind of a contest," said Governor Clarke emphatically. "If they ever meet they will fight, and they shall not fight in Arkansas. They shall not fight in Hot Springs, either in or out of a ring. They shall not even shake hands."

When asked if Corbett would be arrested upon his arrival at Hot Springs, Governor Clarke said that a good general never disclosed his plans to the enemy. Information comes from a private source that the Florida Athletic club is considering a plan by which they hope to overcome the obstacles placed before them by Governor Clarke. The scheme is to turn the whole affair over to the Hot Springs Athletic association. That association was incorporated by the state of Arkansas on Sept. 6, 1895, by William L. Babcock, John C. Lonsdale and Charles H. Weaver, all of Hot Springs. According to its charter, the Hot Springs Athletic association was organized for the purpose of carrying on the business of maintaining a place of recreation in or near the city of Hot Springs, where races, athletic exercises and games may be practiced and exhibited and other amusements and means of entertainment may be furnished, either to the public or such persons or associations as may, from time to time be admitted thereto.

Under this charter the people interested believe they can conduct a boxing match limited to a specified number of rounds with soft gloves without violating any state law. When informed of this scheme, Governor Clarke stated that the state chartered corporations or associations for legal purposes only, and that no violation of the law would be tolerated under the guise of amusement. He was not prepared, however, to state just what legal effect the proposition to change the articles would have.

A Hot Springs special says: Corbett and his party have arrived here. Fitzsimmons' manager has telegraphed from Corpus Christi, demanding a deposit of enough money in cash to defray expenses in case of arrest, before he will leave with Fitzsimmons for this city. An Omaha special says: Steve Brodie, who has been playing in this city, received a dispatch tonight, saying he had been chosen referee in the Corbett-Fitzsimmons fight, which will occur when a place can be found where the mill can be pulled off. Mr. Brodie said: "If the authorities at Hot Springs interfere, the battleground will be relocated on the island in the Missouri river near St. Joseph, and will be pulled off to a dead certainty. However, I will expect to referee the fight at Hot Springs."

A DEMOCRAT TALKS.

Colonel Ike Hill Tells About the Springfield Convention.

HOW THE SILVER MEN WERE SLOGGED.

The Tactics of the Other Fellows Simply Out of Sight—Brice and His Big Hoodie—"He Needs a Seat in the Senate in His Business"—Some Striking Truths.

Special Dispatch to the Commercial Gazette.

WASHINGTON, Sept.—"No, I'm for gold. My Democracy is pumpkin color plumb through; I told you that before."

It was Colonel Ike Hill of Newark, O., the celebrated sergeant-at-arms of the house of representatives who spoke. And though he talked readily and in a fashion of stern directness, his features wore a careworn look, as those of a prophet who feared the future he foresaw.

"The control of the party is for gold," continued Colonel Hill: "particularly the leaders in my state of Ohio; and that settles it with me. I'm for gold, and hope I won't live to regret it."

"Yes, all the world knows I was for silver; I was for silver as long as the party was. But they changed to gold on me and I shifted my brush. I follow the party; it can't make too swift a switch for me. There's no curve in the road sharp enough to throw Uncle Isaac off the party train."

"I don't feel the need of making any apology for quitting silver for gold; there's lots of us. There's no end of people whose politics are playing one-night stands right now."

"And I think the Democracy's going to win in '96. Of course, I ain't fool enough to bet money on it; but if we carry Maryland and Kentucky this fall I'll begin to see light ahead. Not floods of it, but light, just the same."

"The trouble is that the way the party's been run for the last three years there's no encouragement to Democrats to win. We don't get anything when we do win."

Grover and Civil War.

"The old Whig party died when it got so weak it only earned four states; we won't carry one with Grover. We'll be lucky to be alive personally if we run him. And yet some of these fellows are heading up that way."

"To be sure, the Democratic party has got the nine lives of a tomcat; that's what your Uncle Isaac does business on now—that's where he pastures his hopes. It's a hard outfit to kill; the Democracy is. In the '90s it stood up and shot at itself for four years, but it's alive and kicking yet. The only thing that shakes me is the fear that maybe somehow Grover's worse than the civil war."

"Ohio? On the level I have hopes Jim Campbell will carry the state. And John Sherman and the abolition crowd have got possession of the Republican party out there this trip; that helps us."

"Campbell's on a good platform. It straddles about just right and ought to suit most people. We've recognized the better element and conceded all it could reasonably ask, and as I look it over I don't see where anybody's right to kick comes in."

"Oh, yes; it's a gold platform. Brice took care of that."

"I've always had a bayonet full of respect for Brice; but since the Springfield convention I venerate him. Brice came there in his private car and went over that convention like you'd carry a horse. Never missed a tick with brush or curry-comb from ears to fetlock. When he got through the party shone like a bottle. If he didn't carry the speed out of it we're O. K."

"Did he have any trouble getting it to declare for '96 and the administration? Not a bit, my son; not a bit. Five thousand dollars more would have made it unanimous."

"Talk about tactics, too! The tactics of the gold bugs at the Springfield convention were simply out of sight. You couldn't reach em with the strongest glass."

"To begin with they picked out a hall that had silver faded from the go. It was one of these silly halls; narrow as a bowling alley and long as a rope walk. There were only 750 seats, gallery and all, in the hall, and here were 808 delegates. They went over the list in advance and assigned all the gold delegations to seats in front. Brice Hopes to Buy His Way In.

"I'm sure Brice will succeed himself. We can carry the legislature like hanging out a washing. The heft of the fight will be in Hamilton county. If we get the 14 votes of Hamilton we've got 'em on a limb. All we've got to do then is shake it or saw it off. They are our meat. Talking about Mr. Campbell's record as governor, he was the only governor Ohio ever had whose appointments were so notoriously bad that he had to call an extraordinary session of the legislature to turn the rascals out.—Toledo Blade.

Thomas Rowe, a well known musician of the city, has gone to Oil City where he will join Mulligan's Comedy company, he having engaged to play with them the remainder of the season.

The merry go round on Washington street afforded amusement to some people for a few minutes last evening because two members of the police force remembered they had once been boys long enough to take a ride.

W. C. Goekeymer, who for three years has been employed at the freight depot in the capacity of rate clerk, has resigned his position, and accompanied by his wife left for his home in Cincinnati. W. H. Leech, of the force, has been elevated to the vacancy, and a general change to fill empty desks will be the result.

The ladies of the auxiliary who are interested in physical culture were given their first lesson by Director Morris yesterday afternoon. There was a much larger attendance than was anticipated, and the class starts off with an enthusiastic membership. A number of teachers in the schools are interested in the movement.

Tommy Humphries and his wife made a scene on Broadway last night. Mary Ann has been working at a restaurant in that part of the city, and upon being discharged last evening demanded her wages; but the former employer refuse to pay, and there was war. At length, after many hard words and grand stand plays from Thomas, the pair departed.

Two men sat at a table in a prominent hotel today, one wearing in his lapel a Bushnell button and the other being decorated with the Campbell, to show that he was a Democrat. "Is that button made out of tin?" asked the Bushnell man. "Yes," came the reply from another guest who set near by, "but it would be much more appropriate if the thing was made out of brass," and the Democrat laughed with the rest.

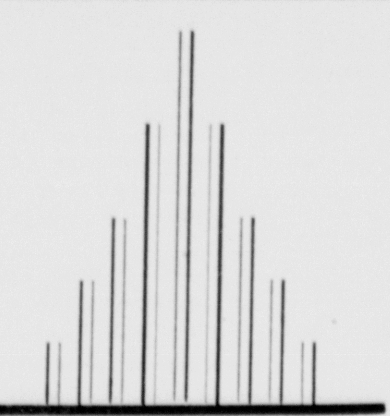

Mr. and Mrs. John Hulson, of New Bedford, Mass., left on the eastbound train last night for their home after a pleasant surprise visit to their friends, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Bloor, of John street. This is their first meeting since they left old England over 15 years ago. Mrs. Hulson also surprised Mrs. John Stoddard, an old classmate, with whom she spent a pleasant time, renewing their old friendship and recalling their schooldays.

People in the Diamond were surprised beyond measure late yesterday afternoon to see a teamster drive to the fountain, and with as much deliberation as if it was devoted to that purpose, then allowed his horses to drink. A number of women were near the fountain, and evidently going to have some water, but when they saw the horses drink, their noses were elevated and they walked away. Now the question arises, "Are horses allowed to drink at the fountain?"

The woods are full of squirrels, and Liverpool sportsmen get their share of the game. I. N. Crable and Jesse Hunter were out yesterday, and on Cream ridge, a noted hunting ground, succeeded in getting 16 squirrels for their labor. Mr. Hunter also killed a hawk measuring almost five feet from tip to tip. The coon hunters are also having their season of sport, and have succeeded in getting a considerable quantity of game. A party will tramp the hills of West Virginia tonight.

A prominent citizen who is more or less conspicuous in all movements for the suppression of the saloon, laughs at the silly boast of a local paper that it is shutting up disreputable resorts. The saloons referred to and the place of Tim Burns have been closed for over a week, and the paper only discovered it through the kindness of a gentleman connected with the Good Citizenship league. Mrs. Coulson informed the News Review, and it was published in this paper several weeks ago, that she was going out of business.

Hon. Charles Emory Smith, the distinguished Republican who is to speak at the rink on Monday evening, will give his hearers something in the nature of a treat. He has been for 10 years or more the editor of the Philadelphia Press, and as an orator he has few equals, being a man of liberal education and wide experience. He adds to the exactness of a writer the fire, force and eloquence of an accomplished orator. He is vigorous and logical, and has long since won an enviable reputation for veracity.

A MAN OF IRON NERVE

He Took Up His Abode In the Water Maiden.

HIS WIFE AND CHILD, ALSO

Captain Charlton Gave Them His Own Quarters and the Stranger Treated Him As Though He Was His Servant—Stole a Boat Before Starting South.

Captain Charlton, the gentlemanly riverman who has spent the summer and fall here looking after the interests of the Water Maiden, had an experience last night which convinces him that the ungrateful man is the meanest man on earth.

When the captain walked into the comfortable cabin he has fitted up on the boat he was surprised to find a man standing near the door. Glancing deeper into the gloom he discovered that the stranger was accompanied by a woman and a child, both of whom seemed cold and damp, while that pinched, painful look always found on the faces of the half starved, gave him a shock that prompted the belief he had run upon a group of specters from the nearest grave yard. At length the captain found his voice and demanded why they had in this manner occupied his house. Deliberately the man replied that he and his family were bound for their home, a point on the lower river. They had started from some town above Pittsburgh, according to the narrator, and reaching here at a late hour, had taken shelter in the boat for the night, believing that it was owned by some kind man who would not turn them adrift. The man acknowledged that they had made the journey in an open boat, and could not at first satisfactorily explain how the boat came in his possession, although he explained later that he found it tied to the shore and appropriated it to his own service.

After hearing the sobs of the child and looking into the weary face of the woman the captain felt that he was far too human to turn them out into the cold, and he made them as comfortable as possible for the night, giving them his own bed and every other convenience that he could find about the boat. Sleeping peacefully in the belief that he was doing a kind act, the captain was astounded at two in the morning to find himself roughly awakened by some one shaking him rudely. The next thing he knew was a gruff voice demanding that he get some coal, as the fire was almost out. That roused the captain, and getting out of the bed improvised in order to give the visitors his own, he raked the fellow fore and aft, telling him that he certainly could work enough to fix the fire. The man sullenly said he did not know where to find the coal, so the captain was compelled to get it himself.

The next morning another evidence of the man's cheek appeared when he asked his benefactor for money with which to buy groceries. Seeing the destitute condition of the family, and fearing that the little child would die of hunger if not given better attention, Captain Charlton gave the fellow 50 cents, and then desiring to surprise the woman, hastened to the nearest grocery store and bought a great quantity of provisions of all kinds. Upon returning he gave the groceries to the woman, and not seeing the man around asked what had become of him. Then the woman burst into a torrent of tears, and sobbing pitifully said that she had lived a dog's life with her husband. He drank at times and abused her, but she was so anxious to get home that she risked the voyage of almost 400 miles with him on the promise that he would not touch a drop until the journey was over. She believed, however, that he had gone up town to spend that money for whisky. Her story made the captain mad, and when the man returned, his breath reeking with the fumes of the liquor he had swallowed, the captain took him on the bank, and there delivered a forcible temperance lecture. The woman added to her story by telling the captain that she had been deceived by the man, who enticed her away from a pleasant home down the river, and by misrepresentation had taken her to a place where life was a burden and she constantly suffered. At length they departed, but not before the man had endeavored to have the captain tell him all about his friends and acquaintances in towns down the river.

Captain Charlton does not know what to make of his strange visitors. The woman was plainly afraid of the man, and the man was afraid of some other power, but whether he was a fugitive from justice or only some poor fellow cast down by poverty and misfortune, was not clear to the captain's mind.

RIDICULED BY BAYARD.

The United States Hasn't Sent an Ultimatum to England About Venezuela.

LONDON, Oct. 16.—United States Ambassador Bayard has been interviewed respecting the report circulated in the United States that he had been instructed by Secretary Olney to submit an ultimatum to Great Britain on the Venezuelan question in the form of a dispatch, the substance of which was said to be that the United States will never consent to British occupation of the disputed territory in Venezuela unless that nation's right to it is first determined by arbitration. Mr. Bayard, after reading an article published in a New York newspaper, dated from Washington, Oct. 3, said that the facts in the case seemed to have been evolved in the fertile brain of the writer, in the same manner that a spider finds the material for its web from its own interior.

He ridiculed the statement of an ultimatum having been drawn up by the United States, and said he could not seriously discuss the matter. The fact, however, remains that since the diplomatic break between Great Britain and Venezuela some years ago, the United States had been anxious to bring about a friendly settlement of the question, and had tendered its good offices to Great Britain with this object in view and had repeatedly endeavored to find means for its satisfactory solution. The same situation continues at present, and the longer the matter was allowed to drift the more anxious would the United States become to see it definitely settled. That was all Mr. Bayard would say about the matter.

There is no medicine so often needed in every home and so admirably adapted to the purposes for which it is intended, as Chamberlain's Pain Balm. Hardly a week passes but some member of the family has need of it. A toothache or headache may be cured by it. A touch of rheumatism or neuralgia quieted. The severe pain of a burn or scald promptly relieved and the sore healed in much less time than when medicine has to be sent for. A sprain may be promptly treated before inflammation sets in, which insures a cure in about one-third of the time otherwise required. Cuts and bruises should receive immediate treatment before the parts become swollen, which can only be done when Pain Balm is kept at hand. A sore throat may be cured before it becomes serious. A troublesome corn may be removed by applying it twice a day for a week or two. A lame back may be cured and several days of valuable time saved or a pain in the side or chest relieved without paying a doctor bill. Procure a 50 cent bottle at once and you will never regret it. Then the eyes become tired from reading, writing, or if the letters look blurred and you experience a sore itching that glasses are needed. The same kind in the cheap grade are of no use, and will result in permanent injury to the eyes. Continued use of cheap glasses will result in positive injury from the strain upon the muscles of accommodation in trying to see the letters in the line."

A MAN OF IRON NERVE

He Took Up His Abode In the Water Maiden.

HIS WIFE AND CHILD, ALSO

Captain Charlton Gave Them His Own Quarters and the Stranger Treated Him As Though He Was His Servant—Stole a Boat Before Starting South.

Captain Charlton, the gentlemanly riverman who has spent the summer and fall here looking after the interests of the Water Maiden, had an experience last night which convinces him that the ungrateful man is the meanest man on earth.

When the captain walked into the comfortable cabin he has fitted up on the boat he was surprised to find a man standing near the door. Glancing deeper into the gloom he discovered that the stranger was accompanied by a woman and a child, both of whom seemed cold and damp, while that pinched, painful look always found on the faces of the half starved, gave him a shock that prompted the belief he had run upon a group of specters from the nearest grave yard. At length the captain found his voice and demanded why they had in this manner occupied his house. Deliberately the man replied that he and his family were bound for their home, a point on the lower river. They had started from some town above Pittsburg, according to the narrator, and reaching here at a late hour, had taken shelter in the boat for the night, believing that it was owned by some kind man who would not turn them adrift. The man acknowledged that they had made the journey in an open boat, and could not at first satisfactorily explain how the boat came in his possession, although he explained later that he found it tied to the shore and appropriated it to his own service.

After hearing the sobs of the child and looking into the weary face of the woman the captain felt that he was far too human to turn them out into the cold, and he made them as comfortable as possible for the night, giving them his own bed and every other convenience that he could find about the boat. Sleeping peacefully in the belief that he was doing a kind act, the captain was astounded at two in the morning to find himself roughly awakened by some one shaking him rudely. The next thing he knew was a gruff voice demanding that he get some coal, as the fire was almost out. That roused the captain, and getting out of the bed improvised in order to give the visitors his own, he raked the fellow fore and aft, telling him that he certainly could work enough to fix the fire. The man sullenly said he did not know where to find the coal, so the captain was compelled to get it himself.

The next morning another evidence of the man's cheek appeared when he asked his benefactor for money with which to buy groceries. Seeing the destitute condition of the family, and fearing that the little child would die of hunger if not given better attention, Captain Charlton gave the fellow 50 cents, and then desiring to surprise the woman, hastened to the nearest grocery store and bought a great quantity of provisions of all kinds. Upon returning he gave the groceries to the woman, and not seeing the man around asked what had become of him. Then the woman burst into a torrent of tears, and sobbing pitifully said that she had lived a dog's life with her husband. He drank at times and abused her, but she was so anxious to get home that she risked the voyage of almost 400 miles with him on the promise that he would not touch a drop until the journey was over. She believed, however, that he had gone up town to spend that money for whisky. Her story made the captain mad, and when the man returned, his breath reeking with the fumes of the liquor he had swallowed, the captain took him on the bank, and there delivered a forcible temperance lecture. The woman added to her story by telling the captain that she had been deceived by the man, who enticed her away from a pleasant home down the river, and by misrepresentation had taken her to a place where life was a burden and she constantly suffered. At length they departed, but not before the man had endeavored to have the captain tell him all about his friends and acquaintances in towns down the river.

Captain Charlton does not know what to make of his strange visitors. The woman was plainly afraid of the man, and the man was afraid of some other power, but whether he was a fugitive from justice or only some poor fellow cast down by poverty and misfortune, was not clear to the captain's mind.

RIDICULED BY BAYARD.

The United States Hasn't Sent an Ultimatum to England About Venezuela.

LONDON, Oct. 16.—United States Ambassador Bayard has been interviewed respecting the report circulated in the United States that he had been instructed by Secretary Olney to submit an ultimatum to Great Britain on the Venezuelan question in the form of a dispatch, the substance of which was said to be that the United States will never consent to British occupation of the disputed territory in Venezuela unless that nation's right to it is first determined by arbitration. Mr. Bayard, after reading an article published in a New York newspaper, dated from Washington, Oct. 3, said that the facts in the case seemed to have been evolved in the fertile brain of the writer, in the same manner that a spider finds the material for its web from its own interior.

He ridiculed the statement of an ultimatum having been drawn up by the United States, and said he could not seriously discuss the matter. The fact, however, remains that since the diplomatic break between Great Britain and Venezuela some years ago, the United States had been anxious to bring about a friendly settlement of the question, and had tendered its good offices to Great Britain with this object in view and had repeatedly endeavored to find means for its satisfactory solution. The same situation continues at present, and the longer the matter was allowed to drift the more anxious would the United States become to see it definitely settled. That was all Mr. Bayard would say about the matter.

There is no medicine so often needed in every home and so admirably adapted to the purposes for which it is intended, as Chamberlain's Pain Balm. Hardly a week passes but some member of the family has need of it. A toothache or headache may be cured by it. A touch of rheumatism or neuralgia quieted. The severe pain of a burn or scald promptly relieved and the sore healed in much less time than when medicine has to be sent for. A sprain may be promptly treated before inflammation sets in, which insures a cure in about one-third of the time otherwise required. Cuts and bruises should receive immediate treatment before the parts become swollen, which can only be done when Pain Balm is kept at hand. A sore throat may be cured before it becomes serious. A troublesome corn may be removed by applying it twice a day for a week or two. A lame back may be cured and several days of valuable time saved or a pain in the side or chest relieved without paying a doctor bill. Procure a 50 cent bottle at once and you will never regret it. Caution about the Use and Selection of Spectacles

"Persons having normal vision will be able to read this print at a distance of 14 inches from the eyes with ease and comfort. Also will be able to read it with ease, respectively 17 inches to do so, your eyes are defective and should have immediate attention. When the eyes become tired from reading or working, or if the lenses are worn and not properly adjusted, a new pair of spectacles should be ordered. The reason why the cheap goods are of no value is because they do not properly adjust the eyes. Continued use of these cheap lenses will result in positive injury from the constant strain upon the muscles of accommodation to keep the defective lenses in focus."
